Citymain has launched a new gadget insurance product designed purely for Apple's Ipad as well as tablet PCs.

With more people heavily investing in such technology, Citymain believes it is important that a suitable insurance solution is available.

Not many people may be likely to have heard of insurer Citymain, but according to a recent release they've added a specialist line of insurance for iPad owners.

Claiming to have offered specialist gadget insurance for over 26 years, the new iPad insurance is part of a Tablet PC line the company has launched.

Citymain note that while one of the biggest benefits of iPads and tablet PC's is their portability, this is also a great weakness, not least through their small size making them especially vulnerable to being lost or stolen.

Paul Kelsey, managing director of the insurer, said: "Citymain is proud to offer this comprehensive yet cost effective insurance policy for Ipad and tablet PCs. "Our policy allows our clients, such as Apple Premier Resellers and other participating retailers, to tailor the coverage to meet the needs of their customers. We can provide day-one protection against theft and accidental damage, including liquid damage, as well as giving the customer the opportunity to extend the manufacturers' warranty for product failure."

Citymain's Ipad and tablet PC cover can be sold by retailers, both online and on the high street at point of sale of the device itself.

Alternatively, it can provide a centralised claims fulfillment service, handling both repairs and replacement, with an average claims turn-a-round time of three days. Citymain also handle all aspects of policy issuance to the customer and subsequent customer service. For more information about the gadget insurance they offer, visit their website.

No doubt many standard home insurance policies will overlap with this insurance product, so it is worth double checking your policy terms. Many contents insurance policies cover portable electronic gadgets, but there is often a limit on the amount of cover they provide for electronics, and it may well be inadequate for your iPad.
